Community Joins Together To Clean Up Cattai Creek

OzFish (Australia's national fishing conservation charity), local conservation organisations and Galston-Glenorie Fishing Club are teaming up on Sunday May 30th for a clean up of Cattai Creek. Cattai Creek is a major tributary of the Hawkesbury River and the home to platypus.

This collaboration will combine in stream knowledge of local recreational fishers with volunteers from environmental organisations. This is Citizen Science in action!

The day will be part of a broader catchment wide effort coordinated by Hawkesbury City Council and Clean Up Australia. It is estimated about two million tonnes of plastics enter the oceans from rivers and creeks each year. Local OzFish Chapter President and avid fly fisher Juan del Carmen said "When litter is dropped on land, the wind and rain often carry it to storm water drains which empty into creeks and rivers and then carry it to the oceans."

President of Galston-Glenorie Fishing Club, Karl van Middeldyk invited OzFish to do a presentation at their club night. Members of Galston Club and Windybanks and Hornsby Fishing Club were also in attendance. He said the Club is excited to work with OzFish for the first time. "I've been fishing and living around Cattai Creek my entire life and have never seen it needing more of a helping hand than now" Mr Middeldyk said.

Rubbish is a contaminant for fish as well as all the other creatures that depend on our waterways for their existence.

All litter collected on the day will be sorted, counted and entered into the Tangaron Blue Australian Marine Debris Database for research into how to keep waterways litter free in the future.

To get involved in the rubbish removal, participants will meet at the Nelson Reserve 507 (3Z Newman Road, Glenorie) on Sunday 30th May 2021. Participants are encouraged to bring their own personal watercraft that are the scale hand from the riverbank. To calche to their efforts that can be easily launched from the riverbank. To celebrate their efforts, all volunteers are invited to the Galston Club for refreshments afterwards.

For those interested to lend a helping hand in this site or other locations for the Hawkesbury Valley Flood Recovery 'Community Clean Up Day' on Sunday 30 May, jump onto the OzFish website at www.ozfish.org.au and register for the event, or register directly through https://www.cleanupaustraliaday.org.au/ by searching on the map for a site near you!

This project is part of the NSW Government Growing River Stewardship Program, and proudly supported by the NSW Government Environmental Trust.

With Liz Wilkinson

My Grandchildren were watering their Woolies seedlings when out of the spout of their watering can came a slug much to their amusement.

Mr White Cockatoo has struck again this year but after his first attack on my lemon tree up went the bird net but he still managed to destroy 21 green lemons- naughty cocky!!!

In the Warrumbungles I came across this young Kurrajong Tree (I think) and on the leaves were white sticky strands that the ants were eating. Also on the tree were many cocoons of leaves stuck together--I didn't want to destroy one to find out what it was but there were lots of them.

In the Warrumbungle National park Centre was a lovely display of model birds and real nests The Apostle Birds nest was very interesting as well as this tiny cup type- can't remember what bird it

At Tooraweena I saw a collection of treasures collected by the Spotted Bower Bird. To decorate their bower they find green, white and silver objects -- this one had many bones and green berries. The people on whose property we were said they have to watch their silver tools when they are working otherwise they will be whisked away. They are certainly different to our Satin Bower Birds.

Editor's Notes

h these sunny days are glorious, Oh these sunny days are y I'm sitting here in the sunshine editing this magazine, the birds are vocal and it's very still. I wouldn't want to live anywhere else. It's delightful!

Have you downloaded your Dine and Discover vouchers yet? That's $100 to spend on dining out and going places, like movies or shows. I've used mine to see an Elvis Show and lunch. You need to be quick because they expire on June 30th. Don't miss out.

Someone must be sprinkling Happy Dust around me lately, because everyone seems to be coping with this new lifestyle of being wary of cold germs around others, and I'm seeing lots of smiling faces. I hope this is a new trend, because I like it!

Did you know that this magazine is now on the Wisemans Ferry & District's web site? Wisemans.org.au That means that we get more exposure and our advertisers do as well.

....AND....It's in colour! Looks great! We may have some more exciting news on that front for you next month.

We still have the ongoing problem of keeping our finances up to our outgoings, and at the moment we have a deficit each month. As this cannot go on indefinitely, we need to get some more income via advertising. Our Eastbend members are always on the lookout for new advertisers to cover this lack. Do you have a business that you'd like to advertise? Contact Sheila at the address above. We need you! The added bonus now is that you will be seen on the website and in colour. As well as physically in the hands of over 2,000 people.Enjoy your read...Carole

Caring for the Great North Road

The Convict Trail Project aims to protect, restore, maintain and promote a unique feature of colonial Australia heritage, – the 240km long convict-built road from Sydney to Newcastle. From its beginning at Parramatta Road, Five Dock, the road passes through Dural, Glenorie, and Wisemans Ferry, then over a World Heritage listed section and

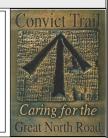

Despite the regular funding provided by four local Councils and funding from Yancoal the ongoing operational work costs experienced by the Project are expected to exceed available funding, so that fund raising has become necessary.

News From Wisemans Ferry Mens Shed

The aftermath of the mid-March 2021 flood was on display this week at the Mens Shed and the job of restoration is way beyond the limited resources of our members and a few able volunteers to clean out the devastation left after the waters receded.

Ray Crawley, President of our zone in NSW rang our President Adrian Acheson and after several discussions has organised a bus-load of volunteers (up to 100 persons) from the Central Coast members of the Mens Shed Association to arrive this week to help with our clean-up.

They will be bringing special welding equipment and tools to re-make our timber racking and to generally tidy and clean inside the Shed to enable us to get back to operational status.

Last month we put out an appeal for replacement tools and the response was overwhelming. Large amounts of replacement tools have been received and we request that for the time-being we have sufficient tools for our needs. Corporate sponsors have also got on-board and we have received many generous offers which we will take up when the Shed is in better state.

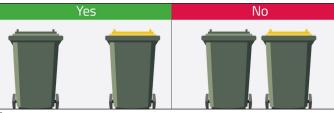

We wish to thank everybody who has generously donated these tools and other items that we will sort when the clean-up is finished.

We invite any person to come to our Shed to see our situation and to make any constructive comments to assist in our recovery.

Our Shed if open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays and is located behind Bowling Club Phone 0448 33781

Correct Bin Placement

F or Council's garbage trucks to be able to empty garbage bins, please place your bins correctly.

Handy tips to ensure your household waste, recycling and green bins can be easily and safely collected:

- * leave about 1m of space between your bins and other objects so the truck arms can grab the bins without knocking them over
 - * securely tie the plastic bags in your bins
- * don't park cars in front of the bins if the truck arms cannot reach the bin, cannot be emptied
- * don't leave your bins directly under low hanging trees to ensure that the truck does not knock leaves and branches down and leave a mess
- * make sure the lid opening is facing the street, wheels towards your house the bin lid can snap if waste falls onto the lid when the truck empties the bin
- * don't place bins behind each other the truck cannot empty bins from behind other bins
- * keep your bin lid closed if your bin is too full and the lid can't close, the garbage truck can't empty the bin and the bin can also fill with water when it rains.
- Not sure what waste items go in which bin? Visit Council's website at hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au (click on the For Residents tab, then Waste and Recycling) to see how to correctly dispose of specific items and to receive reminders to put your bins out for collection.

e are pleased to begin a series of memoirs selected from a booklet titled 'The Women of Maroota'. This is a compilation of recollections from Ruby E Ramm, published in 2001. Ruby's stories are a mixture of personal memories and those of family and friends, and convey the admiration and respect in which these forebears were held.

We hope you enjoy reading about these amazing pioneering women, and we look forward to hearing your own stories of the old days in our district.

Katherine Gallagher (aunty Kate) nee Grono Married to Robert Gallagher. Family: Robert (Bob) Jnr, Edward (Ted) and Molly er home was situated about a quarter of a mile on the left down Gallagher's Road, Maroota. A short distance away, on the same side of the road, was the home of Robert (Bob) Gallagher Jnr. Fanny was his wife, and they had one son, Billy.

My varied memories of Aunty Kate are still clear in my mind today. She lived in a galvanised iron house painted brick red all over. It had a little half verandah facing the south east, a refreshingly cool spot in hot summer evenings.

Aunty Kate was proud of her little home, and regularly gathered a bush broom from nearby bushland to sweep the floor and verandah, leaving them fresh and clean.

In the coolest corner of the verandah stood a colourful display of coleus. They grew in kerosene tins filled with soil and were watered regularly. They were Aunty Kate's pride and joy, along with her little front garden that I came to love just as much as she did.

The front gate was a slip rail one, and it led onto a narrow garden path that ended up at the verandah entrance. I especially remember the right hand side of the garden where a mock orange tree grew. Flourishing after their own fashion at its base was a small massed wilderness of fragrant creamy, yellow freesias mingled with deep blue violets. True to season every year, the mock orange, freesia and violet blooms came to life in all their loveliness and sweet perfume. To this day, freesias grow wild along the roadside in that area, no doubt some of Aunty Kate's have settled there via wind scattered seed.

I recall Aunty Kate always wearing a bandage halfway up her left leg because of an accident one windy day. A strong gust blew a sheet of iron off a roof and it struck her leg, cutting through to the bone just above the ankle. I was told her foot was twisted halfway to the back, so it must have been a very serious injury, though she was able to walk well enough after it healed. I think the bandage was retained for support.

During dry times, when I took my horse for a drink at a quarry a short distance from her place, Aunty Kate would be waiting at the sliprails to catch us on the way back. In her hand would be a brown paper bag containing six freshly baked Anzac biscuits, the biggest I'd ever seen. What a thoughtful Aunty she was!

Te are still waiting for parts for our bus to get it back on the road, which makes it hard for us to organise any outings for our members. However we were able to go to the Premiers Seniors Concert at Darling Harbour thanks to Phil with his bus, who came to our rescue driving us into the city. The concert was a huge success this year as it featured Human Nature and we were all bouncing about to the music.

Our picnic day in the local park had to be cancelled due to the floods, but we are planning one for this month. Hopefully we will get a nice sunny day.

Many Thanks to all those who supported our Easter Raffle the first 2 prizes going to locals Daryl and Rod, the third prize went to a visitor from the Retreat.

Mindsor Peninsular

By Liz Wilkinson

he Court House on the corner of Pitt and ■ Court Streets was erected by Governor Macquarie about 1819-29 (more conflicting dates) The first court held there was presided over by Mr Justice Stephen. This court house is still used today.

On the corner of Arndell St and North St (continues on from Court St) stands an old Inn (now a Private Residence) known as Peninsular Inn and also at one time as Court house Inn and Swallows Inn (swallows nest under the eaves). The first licensee for this inn was John Shearing. This premises was used in the long running TV series -A Country Practice. At the rear of the home are some very interesting sheds.

Along North Street are some delightful mid-nineteenth century homes. On the side of one is written Johnstons office but I have been unable to find its history. This house is a good example of jerkin-head roofing which provided shelter for the people living there in times of flood.

The Peninsular is such an interesting part of Windsor.

Tax Exemption for 'Granny Flat' Arrangements

Typically, granny flat arrangements occur when an older person transfers some sort of consideration (often title to property or proceeds from the sale of property) to their adult child in exchange for the promise of ongoing care, support and housing. In some circumstances, it's a way for a parent to give their children access to their inheritance when it's needed not at a later point when the person dies.

However, a 2017 Australian Law Reform Commission report highlighted the potential for elder abuse where granny flat arrangements fall apart. If the relationship breaks down, or other unforeseen circumstances arise, the older person can be left homeless. A central problem is a lack of formality in these arrangements.

The tax system, in particular, the capital gains tax (CGT) system, acts as a disincentive to formalising a granny flat arrangement. Under the current rules if a granny flat arrangement if formalised, this can lead to an upfront tax liability for the home owners. Also, the children can potentially lose part of their main residence exemption when the parent pays for the right to live in the home depending on how the arrangement is structured. If the arrangement is left informal, and the money paid by the parent is merely a gift, the main residence exemption is generally unaffected.

Recently released exposure draft legislation seeks to overcome the disincentive to formalising a granny flat arrangement by providing a CGT exemption.

This does not mean that every separate dwelling built out the back of a house will have a CGT exemption. The legal meaning of granny flat is derived from social security law; it describes an arrangement rather than a type of accommodation and can arise whenever money or other consideration is given in exchange for a right to use accommodation for life.

The draft legislation provides that no CGT event will arise from a granny flat arrangement where certain conditions are met including where the individual with the granny flat arrangement has:

Reached pension age or has a disability, and That the arrangement is in writing and is not of a commercial nature.

The event many of you have long been waiting for has arrived: the release of the draft master plans for Hornsby Park and Westleigh Park. I know just how much the community has been looking forward to this because of how often I am asked about them. These plans present a range of ideas on how the sites could be used and are not development applications. Hornsby Park is especially anticipated, as it will create a vast new open space just a few minutes' walk from Hornsby Station. A big part of it is the rehabilitated Hornsby Quarry, which was filled in using material from the recently completed NorthConnex Tunnel. It includes facilities for walking, cycling, mountain biking, climbing, field sports and other activities. Westleigh Park will be a sports and recreation complex with multiple facilities, including sporting fields with lights, a synthetic grass sportsground, an athletics track, amenities buildings, internal access roads and carparks. There will also be bushland restoration, play facilities, bushwalking trails and mountain bike trails. The draft master plan proposes ideas on how these activities could be accommodated on the site and protect the existing good value bushland, while balancing the needs of a range of stakeholders.Council does not currently have the funds to pursue both projects to their full completion, but will undertake them in stages. The top priority will be Hornsby Park. A core goal of this project from the beginning has been to have active and ongoing community consultation. We want to hear your thoughts on the ideas presented. Please visit hornsby.nsw.gov.au/yoursay to see the draft master plans.

FROM THE PASTORS DESK

One Sunday a plainly dressed, scholarly looking man went to church in the Netherlands and took a seat near the pulpit.

A few minutes later, a lady approached the pew, seeing a stranger sitting in it, she curtly advised him that this was "her seat".

He graciously apologised, and moved to one of the pews in the back of the church. There he joined in the service and left afterward without further incident. When the service was over, one of the woman's friends asked her if she knew who he was and why she ordered him to move.

The woman curtly answered him to be a stranger. She was shocked to learn that he was King Oscar of Sweden, who was in the country visiting their Queen.

The lesson for us all is that Jesus said "Where two or three are gathered in His name, I am in the midst of them" (Matthew 15:20). Therefore His presence can be in us all. Otherwise join a social club or just stay at home. Religion is about man made rules and regulations but God is about relationships through His son.

Build relationships with others and watch the Lord guide your steps. God Bless all as we care for others, even those we may not know.

God Bless!.....PS Peter Goldstien JP, Community Chaplain.

The Hills District Rural Fire Service

PREPARE. ACT. SURVIVE!

MAROOTA SOUTH RURAL FIRE BRIGADE

nother month has passed, and the weather has gone from very wet to dry then back to heavy rain.

This last month we have attended two motor vehicle accidents, a car fire and a couple of fires that got a bit out of hand.

One of the motor vehicle accidents took a heap of work to manage the traffic, and then wait a considerable amount of time for the ambulance to attend as it came from Penrith.

On the hazard reduction subject, we helped at several in the last month, but have come to a halt till the fuel dries again in, I expect, Spring.

If you are doing a pile burning or hazard reduction, you need to go on to the NSW RFS web site and get a job number, thus notifying 24 hours prior. You can still ring district office, but this is now only available for those that have no internet access. Still, neighbours must be notified 24 hours in advance, and you must have water onsite to manage any problems that may occur.

If you have any problems with your pile burn escaping, remember to call 000.

he brigade was only called out to one incident last month, an Automatic Fire Alarm (AFA) at Glenorie. However we didn't get too far before we were stood down as the problem had been sorted

June is the start of the winter months and a very busy time for our brigades in the means of getting hazard reductions done (weather permitting) before the next fir-0 season and fitting in a lot of training. We congratulate Mel for getting through the Basic Firefighters (BF) course last month as well as three more members who now have their Village Firefighter's (VF) certificate. Two more members will be assessed in the next month for their Crew Leader's (CL) certificate and we continue to have members reaccredited in First Aid and Chain-saw skills and certificates.

Winter is also the time for all of our community to get busy reducing the fire hazards around our properties. Trim back overhanging trees and keep the gutters and roofs clear of leaves and debris. We have all seen first-hand that this is so important to be able to survive in a bushfire and we have also just recently seen that it lessens the damage to our homes during flood and storms too. Make sure you have a good cleared area (an asset protection zone (APZ) around all of your buildings and fences. Make sure your gates and drive-ways are wide enough for a fire truck to fit through to access and protect your buildings in a fire. Store fuel and flammables (woodpiles, chemicals etc) away from your house. Obtain and regularly maintain, pumps, sprinklers and hoses, ready to fight a fire. Keep paddocks and lawns slashed and mown.

Most importantly, PLAN, PLAN, PLAN. This is the time to sit down with all of the family and make your plans to be safe through a bushfire (Bushfire Survival Plan) as well as plans to be safe from a house fire (Home Escape Plan)and practise, practise PRACTISE!

The Maroota Muster on Sunday, 15 August 2021 starting at 10am. We hope to meet and speak to you there.Robin Hitchcock old weather has began and what better time to get out rake up those fallen leaves and fallen branches, getting ready for the summer season.

Quieter times has given our members time to keep busy developing their skills with available from our District.

Congratulations Geoff, Mark, Nathan and Garry for completing their VF training and some of our members are completing further training as well. Thank you for your commitment and the hours you give to our brigade.

Progress is continuing our brigade site by area with the construction of the Area Training Complex.

What can we do? Ensure our inside fire alarms are working or replaced and prepare for the coming fire season while the weather is favourable. Register your pile burn online at The Hills webpage Follow the guidelines for pile burning and remember to notify your neighbours at least 24 hours before you are intending to burn. The Hills Fire Control Centre is 96542268 if you have questions.

RECONCILIATION WEEK

A t Pathways Community Counselling we stand strongly in support of those in need; committed to being inclusive and supporting the diversity of all people in Australia, all walks of life, all races, cultures, gender, sexuality or disability. May 27th marks the beginning of Reconciliation Week. Reconciliation is the journey of all Australians, and began formally almost three decades ago. At the heart of this journey is the relationship between the wider Australian community and our Indigenous communities. Reconciliation week aims to be a step towards developing justice re: the wrongs of the past, and to support increasing equality and equity for Indigenous Australians.

The descendants of the original Indigenous caretakers of this land suffer from inter-generational trauma, endless associated challenges and are amongst the most vulnerable in our society. They endure much higher levels of psychological distress, three times higher than the non-Indigenous population. They struggle with unemployment, lack of educational opportunities, lower average income, more adverse life events and chronic physical illnesses.

Those of us whose ancestors have travelled here to Australia (and may have been part of cruel and inhumane treatment towards the first inhabitants) may wish to do what we can to support not only our Indigenous communities, but all minority and disadvantaged communities. There are many things that can be done to heal the impact of past hurts to our mind and body.

You yourself may have endured past hurt or trauma, which you would appreciate having a place to talk about, with someone who can suggest methods to heal the impacts on your nervous system.

At Pathways Community Counselling Clinic we offer a professional and friendly local counselling service, here to support you with life's challenges, big and small. Sometimes all you need is to know that someone cares. Generously supported by the Galston Branch of Bendigo Bank, we are committed to making help available to Contact us on 0434 293 116. Your first session is free.

Cold and Flu Prevention

With the arrival of winter there are many things we can do to minimise the risk of catching colds and flu. Here's some handy tips:

- * Wash your hands regularly and carry an alcohol based hand sanitiser
- * Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth. This is the quickest way for a virus to enter your body.
- * Do not share drinking or eating utensils.
- * Use a tissue or the inside of your elbow when coughing or sneezing. Germs from coughing or sneezing can spread over 10 square metres.
- * Drink plenty of fluids such as water and/or orange juice.
- * Get plenty of rest and fresh air.
- * Keep stress at a minimum. Chronic stress can weaken the immune system.
- * Avoid crowds during flu season.
- * Take immune boosting supplements like echinacea.
- * Stay home if you are unwell.

The Sunshine Group

The Sunshine Group is opened each Wednesday from 9.00 to 2.30 we welcome all ages ladies and men, young and old, We love to see some new people join us, so we welcomed two new members, John and Javid from Spencer.

The cost for the morning is $5.00; stay all day for lunch and bingo for $10.00 and have some fun with us.

We welcomed back the children from Wiseman's Ferry Public school after last years shut down due to Covid 19. Our morning tea and games were such fun. The competition between the children and the Sunshine Group has not changed. What a lot of fun and laughter we have by all.

It is another sad year for us at the Sunshine Group as we can't hold our Annual Fete again this year due to Covid19. Our funds are getting a little low, so if anyone would like to donate to us we would appreciate it. The fete day helps keep Casserley Cottage stay open making us able to help the aged residents and support those who need our help.

We are hoping to start our Bus trips up again soon thanks to the seniors group for letting us hire their bus. We usually go on the last Wednesday in the month, so if anyone would like to join us you are quite welcome; just ring Judy.

We are also planning a trip to Nepean Belle Paddlewheeler hopefully in September when the weather is warmer, we will make a list for those wishing to join us so again ring Judy.

Last thing, please come and join us for a cuppa a chat you will be very welcome any time.

St Albans Swap meet

Detecting bushfires within one minute of ignition

Imagine a system that could detect any bushfire in Australia within minutes of ignition so firefighters could tackle the blaze before it spreads. A Queensland based company has announced our first purpose-built satellite for fire detection. It is the first of 24 constellation satellites that will monitor Australia from a low Earth orbit. Once the full system, including ground-based cameras and aerial drones, is up and running, it will be able to spot any fires within one minute of ignition.

Have your say on how we can best help you

Are you a landholder in Greater Sydney on 2 or more hectares? To support landholders in improving their knowledge, skills, and practices on the land, Greater Sydney Local Land Services have commissioned social research agency Ipsos to conduct research on local landholders. Ipsos will send an email to targeted landholders to take part in the survey.

Healthy Ageing workshops

Many in our community are choosing to continue living in their own homes as they age. Healthy Ageing workshops encompass a range of topics designed to help make our days richer and safer, particularly as we grow older.

Being a part of a close, isolated community means that many of us are each other's mental health support. These workshops will give us skills to better support each other, and to recognise when to get help—and what kind of help might be needed.

The more people in our community who develop an awareness about the issues associated with 'ageing in place', the more we can continue to become stronger and healthier as a whole. The workshops are open to everyone—you don't need any prior knowledge or experience. The Healthy Ageing workshops are designed to be interactive, useful and-most importantly-fun!

SCHOOL SNIPPETS

CATTAI PUBLIC SCHOOL

Term 2 has started with a whirlpool of activities for the students, and everyone has taken up the challenge with gusto.

Our Fun Run was attempted by all the students. This year we again decided to forego the sponsorship of the students for each lap they completed, but even so they all put their heart into the event. The school grounds were used and again allowed the students areas to travel on the flat as well as on undulation ground, and areas for overtaking and other places where it was nice to walk and take a breather. Everyone should be proud of their efforts. This event determined which children qualified for the Small Schools Cross Country day.

The ANZAC Day service at Wiseman's Ferry was attended by many of our students, dressed on school uniform to represent our school. Our students, with those from the other local schools, honoured all those who fought at Gallipoli as well as those who have, and those who still are, fighting for us and our freedom. Our students helped with the readings and the raising and lowering of the flags. To the students who attended this event, we would like to thank you for your representation of the school.

Hawkesbury Show allowed our students to showcase their creativity. Our C3 class painted 3 timber horse cut-outs which were displayed with similar horses from other schools. One of our horses was lucky enough to win first place. Several students entered the Lego section of the Arts and Crafts competition. One student competed in the Pony Club show jumping competition. Even our wonderful GA entered his Creamed Honey in the Agricultural competition and received a second place for his produce. Everyone involved, and there were many behind the scenes, should be encouraged to continue their extracurricular activities. Congratulations to all of you for such great achievements.

Our ANZAC Day Ceremony was short this year due to the lack of special guests and visitors, but the students still showed reverence and respect throughout the ceremony. The students each laid a floral tribute, most of which were handmade, at the base of the flagpole. The tradition of honouring those who have given their lives for their, and our, country, is strong in our school community.

The Small Schools Cross Country day saw many of our students proudly compete for their school as well as for themselves as they completed their 3km run. The children pushed themselves and many achieved personal best results. We wish well to those students who have made it to the next level and thank all those who attended for their great efforts and wonderful sportsmanship.

With Mother's Day looming, the students made cards and produced painted plant pots as gifts for their mum. Lots of effort was put into these items as they were made with love and pride. Hopefully, the mums loved the gifts as much as the children loved making them.

Rewards Day!!! Again, the school members managed to fill the jar with marbles obtained through their positive behaviours, and so the SRC decided it would be fun to hold a movie day. The students went to school in their pyjamas and when it was movie time, they had two choices. Munchies, pillows, a movie and friends!! What better reward could they ask for?

The year 6 students have taken on leadership roles and are conducting classes in several of the local pre-schools. Our students have taken the responsibility seriously and the pre-schoolers have loved the experience. The different leaders have chosen different topics to cover. They are doing a wonderful job as leaders and are working on their leadership skills as well as excellently promoting the school. Many of the pre-schoolers will one day become Cattai students, and hopefully continue the experience.

Naplan was held for the year 3 and 5 students. All the students were well behaved and understood the structure of the tests due to the practice days. The three days went smoothly and now it is a waiting game to see the growth of each student since their last test.

Finally, a Parent Assembly where the parents were able to attend in a physical, rather than virtual, capacity. After a hot lunch, the C1 class hosted a great assembly, being their first time in this role. They each did a wonderful job of getting up and standing before their peers, teachers and parents and using the microphone. Lots of awards were given out and birthdays celebrated. The C1 class performed a dance, the C2 displayed their Giraffe art and the C3 spoke of their achievements and forward planning for the term. It was great to witness all the students having a chance to speak in public and show pride in their work.

Fitness this term sees the children skipping while for sports they are improving their athletics abilities. BMX is still held one lunch a week as is the Gardening Club, board games and the Dance group. The children certainly love all the extra-curricular activities which enhance their learning journey. The rest of this term is filled with more of these special learning experiences. The children are very excited to experience all these different forms of learning.

MAROOTA PUBLIC SCHOOL

Greetings from Maroota! It's hard to believe that we are already halfway through the term! It's been a busy one!

It started with our beautiful ANZAC ceremony, at school, at the flagpole. Our school leaders did a fabulous job and our students were exceptionally behaved and extremely respectful. It was lovely to walk at the Wisemans Ferry ANZAC march with beautiful Maroota students, proudly marching behind the Maroota PS banner.

Our school Cross Country ran smoothly with our long-distance speedsters running around and through the course. Attendance at the Small Schools Cross Country Carnival was amazing. We have Emily, Knox and Gemma off to the District Cross Country to represent our school, this Friday. We wish them all the very best. Gemma, Matilda, Knox, Tarnoo and Emily make their way to Brewongle EEC at the end of this week to attend Leadership Camp. It's going to be two full days of collaborative, cooperative fun! They can't wait and their teachers are very jealous!

Students, K-6, have been involved in a Little Athletics program, funded by our P&C. They have run and jumped and thrown their way to athletic excellence! For the rest of the term, we have been lucky enough to secure some cricket sessions with some cricket coaches. We can't wait! Until next time...
